

The visualization shows a 2D array of 9 cells arranged in a cross shape. The horizontal row consists of 6 cells, and the vertical column consists of 3 cells. The colors represent values, with a scale from blue (low) to red (high). The horizontal row shows a gradient from blue to red, with the intersection cell being red. The vertical column shows a gradient from blue to red, with the intersection cell being red.

